WORK EXPERIENCE

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

ROCKET SYSTEMS

Jul.2022 - Now

As a frontend developer at Rocket Systems, my primary focus is on developing applications using React.js and TypeScript, as well as creating mobile applications with React Native. React.js is a popular JavaScript library for building user interfaces, and TypeScript adds static typing to JavaScript, providing better code maintainability and catching errors early in the development process. In my role, I collaborate with the design and backend teams to translate user interface mockups and wireframes into fully functional and responsive web applications. I utilize my expertise in React.js and TypeScript to write clean, efficient, and modular code that adheres to industry best practices and coding standards.
